Bayly rushed on deck and jumped to the rescue.

He succeeded in reaching Yarwood who was insensible and all but drowned, and supported him until he could reach a lifebuoy which had been thrown overboard. A boat was launched, and after some ten minutes both were picked up.

The danger incurred by Lieut. Bayly was much enhanced by the close proximity of shark-infested reefs."

Admiral Bayly joined the Royal Navy as a Cadet in Apl. 1867, on his 14th birthday; he became a Midshipman on 29th Jan. 1869, and Sub-Lieutenant on 27th Oct. 1873. "The Chusan" belonging to the China Steam Navigation Co., on a voyage from Glasgow to Shanghai was wrecked in a heavy gale on the Crinan Rock off Ardrossan Harbour on Wednesday, 21 October 1874. The ship had a crew of 48, mostly coloured men, 36 were drowned. The fact that some of the local lifeboat men were away on drill exercises caused some delay in rescue work. At the Court of Enquiry four men were recommended for an award for "conspicuous and gallant efforts to save life", but it does not state what form the award was to take.

38 Albert Medal, bronze, (Land), presented by His Majesty to Havildar Major Rur Singh, 48th Pioneers, for gallantry in saving and endeavouring to save life at Chagmalai, on the 18th October 1921. Fine. 1

Extract from "Gallantry". "In the course of operations in Waziristan, a party of men were crossing the Shahur Tangi on 18th October 1921, and had reached some high ground in mid-stream, when they were cut off by a sudden rise of the water. The river rapidly became a roaring torrent; five of the men were swept away, and it seemed that the remainder were doomed. Havildar-Major Rur Singh. 48th Pioneers, made several attempts to swim out with a rope, and eventually succeeded in reaching the men, but they were then exhausted and, the river rising still higher, the whole party was swept away. One man to whom the rope was handed by Rur Singh was pulled to the bank, while Rur Singh himself was washed ashore some distance down the stream alive, but considerably battered."

The original bestowal document for the CB is included. Extract from extensive documentation:- The Defence of Lucknow "Against others who are gone a tribute must be paid to Lt. James, the Commissariat officer. It would be difficult indeed to add a word to the glowing eulogiusm of Brig. Inglis". It is not too much to say that the garrison owes their lives to the exertions and firmness of this officer. Wounded as he was at Chinhut by a ball in the knee, causing him intense suffering, he refused to be placed on the sick list, and never ceased to pay the strictest attention to his duties. His determination and courage were alike conspicuous. His peculiar temperament fitted him exactly for the position he held. Lt. James lived to justify to the full the high opinion entertained of him by all his comrades. He met his death in private life when pigsticking in Bengal. As a tribute, though a feeble tribute, to his daring nature and manly qualities he was buried in the scarlet hunting coat which he wore when he met his fatal accident".

D.S.M. awarded for the Battle of Jutland. H.M.S. Broke under the command of Commander Allan was one of the destroyers in the 4th Flotilla. During the battle it was heavily engaged by an enemy cruiser and the bridge telegraphs destroyed. All the crew on the bridge were killed. As a result of this damage the ship collided with another British destroyer the Sparrowhawk.

Out of a total crew of 197 the ship suffered 42 killed, 6 missing, 14 severely wounded and 20 slightly wounded. These casualties were almost entirely from among the forward stokehold guns' crews and bridge.

H.M.S. Broke is also famous for its actions on 20.4.17 when a flotilla of German destroyers were bombarding harbour installations at Dover Harbour. She rammed the German destroyer G42 and Lt. Despard led a boarding party. Her Captain, Commander Evans was awarded the D.S.O. for this action. Full details included with group.

Gordon-Campbell (latterly Rear-Admiral Gordon-Campbell, V.C., D.S.O.). he served in Q5 (alias S.S. Farnborough, alias S.S. Londerer) when she sank the German submarines U68 (March 22nd, 1916) and U83 (February 17th, 1917). He was mentioned in Despatches for his part in the sinking by H.M.S. Pargust of UC29 and was awarded the DSM following the action between H.M.S. Dunraven and UC71, in which the former was sunk. In the actions mentioned this seaman was part of the "Panic party" which simulated an "Abandon ship" procedure after the submarine had torpedoed or shelled the 'Q' ship. Recommendation for D.F.M.:-
"For continuous gallantry and devotion to duty during flights into enemy territory. All tasks undertaken by this NCO have been conscientiously carried out, and his work both in the air and on the ground has been of a very high order. On the night of 12/13 March the aircraft of which he was operator was badly damaged over Berlin. The return flight was made under very trying conditions, the port petrol tank having been pierced and a continuous loss of petrol resulting, the last forty miles being carried out on one engine. The captain, reported that Sgt. Burns cheerfulness had been a great inspiration and help during the return flight."

With 19 photocopied pages from the Operations Record Book of No. 144 Squadron. These include an attack on the German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisneiu at Brest on the night of 7/8 May 1941. Sergt. Burns took part in 34 sorties as a Wireless Operator/Air Gunner, with a total of 199 hours 25 minutes on flying operations.

When it was apparent that the vessel could not be saved, orders for the abandonment were given. The boats were kept together and the next day the survivors were picked up. Able Seaman Daniels left one of the boats to take charge of another which was not under control. There were two dead in this boat and several seriously injured. After burying the bodies he rendered first aid to the injured and then skilfully handled the boat until the occupants were rescued. His leadership and cheerful spirit set a splendid example".

SALE CATALOGUES

On the average we issue twelve or more Coin Catalogues and three Naval & Military Medal Catalogues each year, some of which are usually of Sales of important Collections.

CATALOGUE SUBSCRIPTIONS

Sale Catalogues, frequently illustrated, are normally posted to Subscribers about three weeks prior to the date of Sale.

Lists of "Prices Bid" are issued after each Sale, thus giving at a glance a reliable guide to value. The final test of value must always be auction prices rather than the figures given in books of reference, for changing times and fashions soon render the latter obsolete and misleading. The Lists of "Prices Bid" will probably be enclosed in a following Sale Catalogue.

AIR MAIL POSTAGE

To allow subscribers resident outside Europe time to submit Postal Bids, Sale Catalogues will, if desired, be sent by Air Mail. Air Mail postage is not, however, included in the Subscription Rate and the cost must be borne by the Subscriber. In such cases a deposit against the cost is required.
